

THE FIRESTARTER

I SAW THAT COMING.. ~ KARMA

Happy Father's Day!

We hope that everyone has a wonderful weekend celebrating that special someone in your life that fills the space of a father, in memory of fathers and all the fathers to be. (And Happy Father's Day to our dad, Dave..xoxox)

We could certainly use a break from the rain now, at least long enough to get a good mow in on the grounds... things are looking a little shaggy out there, and I think it is hurting Damon's heart a bit that he can't get the grass cut. And, well... the potholes are to be expected, but not appreciated. The rain continues to keep the roads very soft and we appreciate your understanding and patience.

Have a great weekend everyone!

Many complaints of people/ kids driving golf carts and being disrespectful. We would like to ask the community, our customers... and the surrounding areas, to please be respectful. Follow the rules of the roads. Golf carts are a unique way of commuting in the area that allows us to be quiet with nature and our neighbours.

HAVE YOU
REGISTERED YOUR
